"IF INTELLECTUALLY AND STRATEGICALLY, IT IS A SINCERE, CLEAR AND UNADULTERATED VICTORY, THE NEXT STEPS IS EITHER ACCEPTANCE OF THE TRUTH, THEN CHANGE, OR DENIAL AND REMAINING ON FALSEHOOD, OR INTENTIONALLY CHOOSING TO ENTER INTO DARKNESS"

QUOTES

"The ones who consciously endeavour to walk in the light of divine guidance and their enemies, who walk in the paths of darkness know themselves in the spiritual realm. For those that want only Paradise and to see the face of Allah Jalla jalaali, you have The Prophets to follow, and those that want other than that, then that path is also clear and extremely easy to tread upon. May Allah guide us Ameen. May Allah purify our hearts and intentions Ameen"

Things are not always as they seem. Leave those that Allah has put in certain places/ circumstances and who He has given certain abilities, to carry out their God- given task (by the will of Allah)

"You will not truly reach the peak of attaining knowledge until you start to understand the importance of learning, understanding and implementing the words of your Creator. Humankind as a whole is currently, and until judgement day, bound by the last testament. One must also make a sincere intention to learn the language that Our Creator chose to send His words down in, further being the language of Jannah/ Paradise"

Those closest to you physically and emotionally could be the ones plotting most against you. Think about it, your closest companion from the Jinn (i.e. your Qareen) works day and night to misguide you and to take you to the hellfire. So, turn back to Allah, repent and obey Prophet Muhammad pbuh, read and completely & sincerely implement the last Testament.

Poetic Statements for My Love

Umm Maryam

[My wife is Umm Maryam, and what is Umm Maryam(i.e. what should I say about her)?

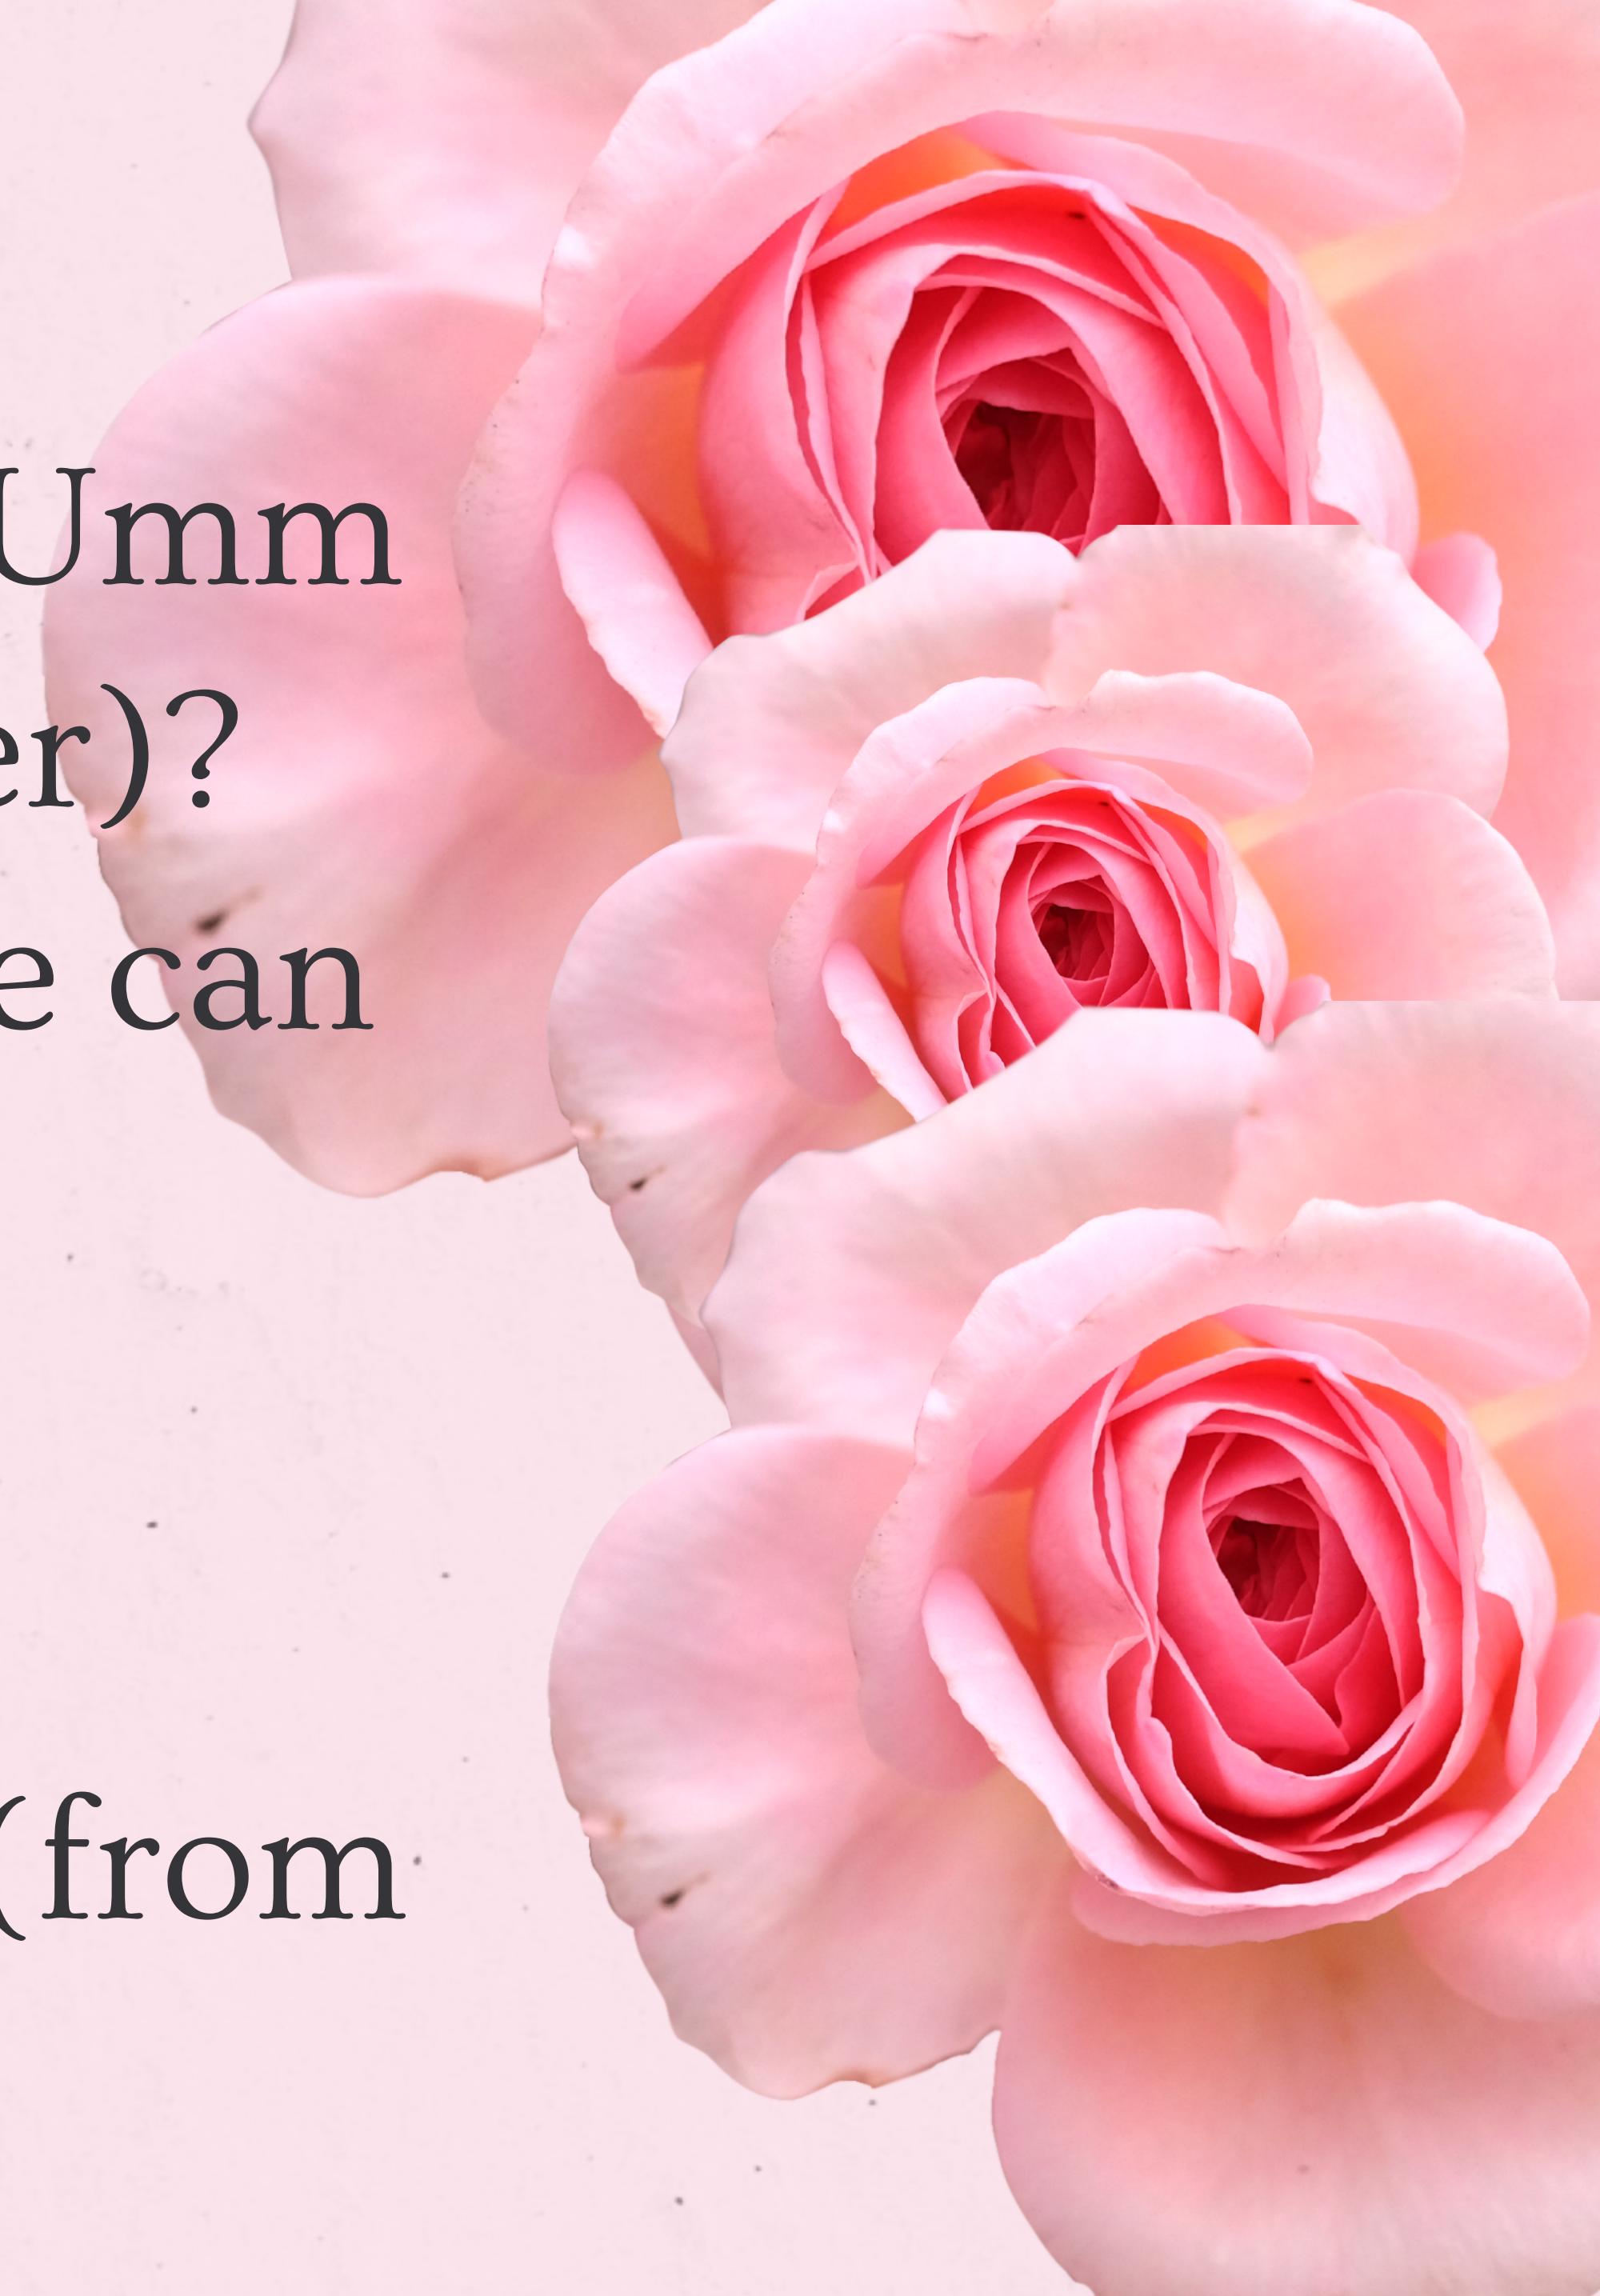

Her worship of Allah (from what the eye can see) comes close to no one I have ever witnessed before (with my own eyes),

Her supplications are always answered (from what Allah has blessed me with of little knowledge).

Her worldly beauty has a distant resemblance to that of The Hur Al 'Ain of Jannah. On top of that, Allah has fully concealed it to none other than her husband, through her niqaab.

Her zuhd/ abstemiousness has a resemblance to the one who's name she bares, from the Quran and Sunnah; Maryam 'aleihaassalaam. Her detachment from the dunia is undescribable, and just like Maryam 'aleihaassalaam, her provisions from her Creator never cease, whether her husband provides for her (from the little he has) or not.- Abu Abdillah].

May Allah enter her into Jannah by His Mercy

"My husband is Abu Abdillah, and what is Abu Abdillah (i.e. what should I say about him)? (Has) a determination unmatched by many of his contemporaries. An aspiring zaahid, barely appearing to be connected to the world, and with a large heart both physical and metaphorical. A man extremely quick to anger but is quickly soothed by the verses of the Quran and authentic narrations of the religion. His ambition is unmatchedable to many, and coupled with his Tawakkul (from what one can humanly observe), always seems to get whatever of the halal he sets his heart upon, or better (directly from His Rabb/ Creator)"

If I had to trade the whole world and it's shimmering, glimmering beauty to enter paradise with you as my wife, I would and I have,

I would walk to the moon and back just for your companionship in Jannah, and I have.

I would sacrifice my money for our companionship, and I have,
with the little I can afford.

If I could be with you now to wipe your tears and be a shoulder to cry on and a pillow to lay on, I would, and you know I would... I love you and always will

If I ever knew

If I ever knew I had to climb one giant mountain to earn your worldly love, I would say make it two

If I ever knew there would be a day without me speaking with you, I would filter my speech and think about what I said to you, momentarily, through and through

If I ever knew I would cause a drop to fall from your eyes, being a reflection of the pain I would cause you,
I would plea with my Rabb to summon the sea to cool your frustrations,
I would ask my Rabb to hasten His mercy upon us, positively regenerate my thoughtless remarks, purify my heart and make my soul renewed

And if I knew there was a day I might lose you, I would trust in my Rabb, and pray to him ardently to diverge this calamity from the Qadar towards the Qadar,
So I may forever be with you

The wind that blew

Oh what sorrow, when I lost you,

Amongst the souls lined up with

Prophet Adam,

Me and you intermingling spiritually with one another,

Then it was just then, it was like the wind blew

Separated on Earth through lineage, searching through the worldly rubble,

looking

only for you

Until I found my soul mate once again, rejoined, realigned, rekindled, a friendship remembered once anew

And that's when it happened again. suddenly it was like a wind just blew

How I long to hold you in my arms, and tell you it will all be okay.

How I long to have you by my side, fingers gently interlocked,
And tell you do not be afraid,
Not because of your lack of Taqwa (of Allah),
But the permissible fear of losing one another through the plots of Shaitaan, and the realisation that yes it is all alright...

As I stand face to face with my Love in Jannah , gazing eternally into your eyes

Worldly death would be sweeter for me than even an atoms thought of the possibility of losing such a priceless gem like you, of which no proficient merchant would be able to purchase, however much they perfected there trade, and however many worldly days they would toil. You are special, not just because I think so, but because you are a special blessing from Allah, of which no human word could do justice... How I wish to wake up in Jannatul Firdaws with you by my side(forever), only to realise that the worldly turmoil was all but just a dream...♥

True purity of heart is to forgive everyone, even if you have the right to dislike, hate, or even to curse them, from any sort of personal grudges (at the bare minimum), purely and solely for the sake of Allah... This is true purity of heart

*"True love is to love someone, ONLY and PURELY for the sake of Allah. Even if they don't understand, accept, appreciate or even believe that you love them, And even if they tried to do everything in their capacity to shun you, you'd still hold on, ONLY and PURELY for the sake and love of Allah...
This is true love"*
